

THE BROMLEY MESSENGER

SEPTEMBER 2014

St. George's (C of E) School, Gt. Bromley

We went to Fingringhoe Wick Nature Reserve. We went to the Wildlife Garden and we looked for bugs. Later on we went to into the meadow. We had nets to use to try to catch some mini-beasts. We also made symmetrical patterns for our butterfly templates by using flowers and grass. After lunch we went to the Secret Wood, it was very exciting! We looked for mini-beasts and then we made our own mini-beasts from twigs, leaves and pine cones. After that we had some cups and we put leaves, grass, soil and mixed it together to make a cocktail for the mini-beasts we had found in the woods. We had a great day! By Charlie Sharp and Hope Singleton

Food Bank Appeal

On Monday we went with Mrs O'Mara and Mrs Pudney to the Clacton Food Bank. We took four big boxes of food that we had been collecting in a shopping trolley at school. We weighed and sorted the food and put it in boxes. The total weight of food we collected was 56.3 kg. Thank you to everyone who donated food.

HMS Belfast in London is a wonderful day out. I last went 30 years ago with two boys and three little girls. On that occasion we started exploring from the top downwards but never reached the engine rooms because we were all so tired!

This time with two little boys we started at the bottom and worked our way up. The five year old didn't reach the magic height 'mark' so we stayed up while his older brother went down into the bowels of the ship with my daughter. We all then explored the kitchens (large areas) and stores complete with cat catching a rat, saw the fierce Postmaster, went into the Sick Bay, gasped at the guns and sat in the Admiral's and Captain's chairs.

We then travelled speedily down the Thames on a ferry boat before returning wearily home by train following a delicious ice cream.

Train, boat and bus rides have all gone according to plan and the journeys achieved on time. However road traffic has not gone so well and I have spent much time stuck in traffic jams with the worst one being an A2/M25 11 mile journey to the Dartford Tunnel northwards taking 2½ hours! I have renewed my acquaintance with car games, children's songs and everything I could remember to keep small children happy on a long car journey - and me sane!

The paddling pool has also made an appearance as I no longer have a swimming pool. Many of you in the village have learnt to swim in it in the past but it sprang a serious leak some years ago and I have now converted it into a sunken garden which both looks, and is, good.

By the time you read this the holidays will be almost over, new shoes will be being fitted and uniform bought with the children and young people getting ready to go back to school and university.

I expect someone knows how many days there are left to Christmas!

Roxanne, Eve, Casey, Brandon and Phoebe for joining the Great Bromley community at the Songs of Praise on Sunday evening. It was a lovely event and our small group of singers did us proud.

Summer Production

On the 14th and 15th of July Classes 3 and 4 performed their production called 'The Pirates of

Flower Festival

For many weeks children at our school have been making paper flowers and props for our display in the church for the St George's Flower Festival, which officially began on Friday 26th of June. Mrs Larkins created an amazing display of our creations, based on the book 'The Umbrella' by Ingrid and Dieter Schubert, including a variety of creatures and habitats from around the world. On Friday morning, Classes 1-3 went over to the church to perform as a choir. Class 3 sang some of the songs they had learnt for their visit to the O2 Arena. A huge thank you to everyone who visited the church, especially to Mrs Pamela Larkins whose ideas and artistic skills made a display we were proud of and Mrs Bridle who did a fabulous job once again organising the music.

A special thank you to Millie, Alice, the Curry Bean'. Everyone was apprehensive but eager to get on stage. The production was a hit. Everyone overcame their stage-fright and sung their absolute best. The audience found it very funny and especially liked the last song Piratical Style. We would like to say thank you to our talented music teacher, Mrs Bridle who directed the production. Also thank you to all those who helped in many different ways.

GREAT BROMLEY PARISH COUNCIL

www.gbpc.org.uk

The Chairs of local Parish Councils, the District and County Councillor met prior to the main Parish Council meeting to discuss the proposed housing development at Balls Green/Hare Green/Frating and it was agreed that further information would be provided to residents regarding this matter in due course in the Bromley Messenger; by way of leaflets and/or on the respective websites so please do keep an eye out for information so that you can have an opportunity to comment.

The Council has a vacancy for a Footpath Co-ordinator following the resignation of Brenda Perry and Councillors wish to thank her for all her hard work in maintaining the footpaths throughout the village. If anyone is interested in taking on this role please contact me. Footpaths are a public right of way and if anyone encounters any problems do let me know.

The Council has a sum of Section 137 money available for village groups to bid for - this is money that must be used in the interest of and bring direct benefit to some or all of its residents. Councillors have asked for all bids to be received no later than 5pm on 31st October 2015 with a view to cheques being presented at the December Parish Council meeting.

Discussion took place regarding the bus service in the village - if anyone has any views on this please let me know.

Just a reminder that the next Essex Police Street Meets are on 25th August, 3-4pm and 30th August, 10-11am, Old Forge Café, Elmstead. The next Local Community Meeting is on 26th August, 7-8pm, Luney Hall, Barrack Lane, Harwich. These are an opportunity to meet your local Police Officers and discuss issues of concern. Information about further meetings can be found on the Essex Police website.

A quiz night is planned for 3rd October and all local groups will be contacted to see if they are interested in putting forward a team of 4 - hopefully this might become a regular event.

IN THE GARDEN WITH KATE

I had forgotten how having a dog enables you to appreciate the countryside more. Our puppy is now almost six months old and, as he is a Springer, likes to go on fairly long walks which has enabled me to see how things are changing with the seasons. I noticed that there are blackberries ripe now, and despite the very dry weather, they look particularly juicy. I also spotted a crop of field mushrooms on another walk (why do I never have a bag handy on these occasions?) and what with the onions and peas and the corn having been harvested, it is looking, dare I say it, quite autumnal. Certainly this morning there was a definite nip in the air.

I do think the school children have had a pretty good summer holiday weather wise, which seems to be pretty unusual, schools' out normally heralds torrential downpours.

The garden is looking very dry at the moment. I try not to water anything in the beds, and stick to the tubs and the greenhouse only, but this has meant that I have had the grand total of four courgettes and only a handful of runner beans. The greenhouse however is thriving with a glut of chillies, aubergines the size of cricket balls and many tomatoes and cucumbers. I have experimented growing mixed leaves for salad in seed trays, which has been very successful, probably because they get watered regularly with the rest of the greenhouse.

Like many other people's, our lawn is a sad looking place at the moment. It resembles a mat of dead straw, but the positive side is that it hasn't required a lot of mowing this year. It is, however, the time of year to start treating the lawn. Scarifying and spiking followed by autumn fertilizer is recommended, and can make all the difference to the lawn next year.

In the rest of the garden deadheading, cutting back and weeding are all useful. Hedges can be trimmed to make them look tidy for the winter. I always look forward to our huge and ancient hedge at the front of the house being cut, as at the moment it looks very wild and woolly, but we have to wait until autumn when the birds have finished nesting and the man with the tractor visits.

Autumn is the time when many vegetables are ready to be harvested, and many overwintering vegetables can be planted or sown. Brassicas, if sown or planted, will need protection with netting against cabbage whites and hungry pigeons.

Spring bulbs can be planted now, but wait another couple of months before putting in tulips, to prevent the dreaded "tulip fire" developing.

Some varieties of apples and pears can be harvested now, but only store perfect ones or they will rot. My biggest problem with storing apples is mice, who can get in the tiniest of holes and love apples. Out with the traps again I think!

Albert Sharpe K.I.A. 15th August 1915

Albert was born in 1897 in Great Bromley and was 18 when he joined the Essex Regiment. His service record does not survive but we know that he embarked on board the Grampian at Devonport on the 23rd July 1915. They passed through Malta on the 30th July and arrived in Alexandria on the 2nd August. From here they sailed to Lemnos and on the 9th August boarded the Hazel for the final trip to Suvla Bay in the Dardanelles - arriving the next day in the afternoon.

On the night of the 14th the battalion was ordered to advance across the Anafarta Plain.

They had to cross about a mile of open ground and they were heavily shelled and machine gunned on the way across. This action cost 14 dead and 60 wounded. The next day was little better as they had to dig in and were harassed by heavy enemy sniper fire costing several more casualties. Albert is listed as died of wounds on the 15th. He has no known grave and is remembered along with 21,000 soldiers whose final resting place is unknown on the Helles Memorial.

Albert was one of six brothers who served, and he was the only casualty. More about the family on our website.

Apologies that I missed Albert last month when he should have been commemorated. Please note that many of these WW1 tributes are sent in by kind researchers and/or family, and not my work. As always any further info always welcome to: Hugh Frostick 07722 253962 hugh@greatbromley.org.uk

Bertie Mulley K.I.A. 26th September 1915

Bertie's family background is not certain to us. One source states he was the son of Francis and Susannah Mulley, another that he was born at Great Bromley, where he was living at the time of his enlistment.

We have no record of any Mulley being born in Great Bromley, and there are no Mulleys in the 1880-1911 censuses.

There was however a Bertie Mulley, with parents Francis/Frank and Susannah, born at Westleton in Suffolk in 1881/1882. It is likely that either he, or his parents, moved to Great Bromley after the 1911 census.

Bertie volunteered to join the Essex Regiment's 11th Battalion around 9th September 1914. (This was a "Kitchener Battalion", created at the start of the war to take the influx of recruits who volunteered at that time.) Bertie was with the 11th when they sailed from Folkestone to Boulogne at the end of August 1915, to join the British Expeditionary Force (B.E.F.) as part of 18th Infantry Brigade, 6th Division. The 11th Essex then moved down south for training. On 21st September they marched to "the Front", which they reached four days later during the first day of the Battle of Loos which is remembered for the first use of poison gas by the British.

The Battalion's introduction to hostile fire occurred the evening of their arrival at the Front, when they started to advance in stages. Late the following morning, 26th September, they were ordered to attack the German trenches just to the south of the village of Hulluch.

Despite heavy losses, the Battalion reached the German trenches, and held their position until relieved that night.

In their very first action, the 11th Essex had lost 18 officers and 350 men killed, wounded and missing, out of a strength of 29 officers and 942 men.

Bertie Mulley was one of those men. His body was never identified, and he is now officially commemorated by his name being inscribed on Panel 86 of the Loos Memorial. It commemorates over 20,000 officers and men who fell in the area, and who have no known grave.

Please note that many of these WW1 tributes are sent in by kind researchers and/or family, and not my work. As always any further info always welcome to: Hugh Frostick 07722 253962 hugh@greatbromley.org.uk

Village Show 2016

The parish council has decided to resurrect the Village Show. The event was successfully held in 2009 and 2010. Its aim was, as it will on this occasion be, to bring parishioners and the various village organisations together for a day of fun whilst aiming financially to at least break even! In order to get this up and running I am looking for enthusiastic volunteers to help organise the event. If you feel you could spare some time please contact me on 01206-251093. Thank you.

THE DOCTORS' SURGERY NEWS

Ardleigh Surgery

Influenza vaccinations

It is influenza clinic time again !

The Department of Health recommends patients should have vaccination against influenza if they are aged over 65 or any patient irrespective of age if they are at particular risk if they have one of the following medical conditions; heart disease, diabetes, respiratory disease including asthma, renal disease, liver disease, neurological disease, splenic dysfunction or who are immunocompromised and pregnant women.

All children aged between two and four are also invited to be vaccinated to lower the transmission of influenza in the community from children. (Born between 2 September 2010 and 1 September 2013)

The good news is that we are able give the children an intranasal vaccine and not an injection and those children under 17 with an at risk medical condition will also be offered the intranasal vaccine. Please contact the surgery to make an appointment with a practice nurse after the 1 October if you have children that are eligible, Flu clinics will be held on Tuesday or Friday afternoons weekly at Ardleigh Surgery starting on the 2 October and ending on the 6 November. Clinics will also be held at the Dedham Branch Surgery.

Please telephone the surgery to book into one of those clinics. We encourage patients to attend these clinics rather than use valuable normal appointment slots unless you are attending the doctor or nurse for some other reason.

GP Trainees

A new GP Trainee, Dr Asham Ajub, started with the practice in August and will be with us for a year.. Dr Ajula Gunasekera and Dr Aman Bhatia, our existing trainees, will be with us until November

Shingles vaccination

If you are aged 70 or 79 you are entitled to receive a vaccination against shingles. Ask at the surgery for a patient information leaflet and book into an appointment with the Practice Nurse.

Practice Manager

Great Bentley Surgery

Apart from one really wet week the summer was pretty good this year. Hayfever symptoms have cleared, the nights are drawing in and our children and young people are going back to school/ college or university. Talking of young people, if your birth date is between 1st September 1996 and 31st August 1997, you will be offered a new vaccine to protect against Meningitis ACWY. This vaccine will protect against four different causes of meningitis as well as septicaemia. If you are going to university it is recommended that you have this vaccine two weeks before you start, so call us now! Younger teenagers will be offered this vaccination in their routine school programme.

We are now also heading into our annual flu vaccination season. If you think you are eligible for a free NHS seasonal flu vaccination, please call us now to check and make your appointment in one of our special clinics arranged at the end of this month or early in October.

Finally the Patient Participation Group is meeting on Thursday 17th September 2015 at 6.30pm in the Great Bentley Village Hall. We hope to be able to discuss some subjects submitted via our new "Virtual PPG" for the first time. If you would like to be part of this new group who are unable to attend regular meetings, just send an email to Melvyn Cox (PPG Chairman) using melvyncox141@yahoo.co.uk.

SUGAR - Most of us eat too much sugar. It can be hidden in foods without us realising it. Try to cut down by eating fewer sugary foods such as cakes, biscuits and fizzy drinks. Many processed foods and, surprisingly, low fat foods can have a high sugar content. Drinking lots of sugary drinks has been linked to an increased risk of type 2 diabetes. Sugary foods and drinks can also cause tooth decay especially if you eat them between meals.

The government recommends that sugars shouldn't make up more than 5% of the energy (calories) you get from food and drink each day that is a maximum of 30g which is roughly 7 sugar cubes. Children should have less - 19g for a child 4-6 years - 5 sugar cubes or 24g for a child 7-10 years - 6 sugar cubes. Just ONE can of cola can have as much as 9 cubes of added sugar!

TIPS TO CUT DOWN SUGAR

- ◆ Instead of fizzy drinks and juice go for water or unsweetened juice. Try diluting fruit juice with sparkling water.
- ◆ Cut down or stop having sugar in tea or coffee
- ◆ Swap cakes or biscuits for a currant bun or scone.
- ◆ Watch your breakfast cereals, many are very high in sugar. Try porridge,

Weetabix or Shreddies (Other brands are available!)

- ◆ Ready sauces and soups often have added sugars. Try to make your own - it is really easy and a lot cheaper. An average sized jar of pasta sauce (roughly 150g) can contain over 13g of sugar which is the equivalent of 3 teaspoons!
- ◆ Get used to reading food labels and comparing products for healthier options. High - over 22g of total sugars per 100g - Low - 5g of total sugars per 100g

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

At the July meeting Beryl began by informing members of the sad passing of Cis Nicholls, one of the long time members of the Friendship Club.

Members were then reminded that in August we shall be having our Auction and items for this would be gratefully received. No raffle or competition that month. Tea helpers are still needed if anyone would like to volunteer.

A splendid lunch was enjoyed by a group of members at the Kings Arms in Frating on 29th July, and names will be taken at the next meeting of those wishing to attend the Christmas lunch on 25th November.

Beryl then introduced Brian Gorden who entertained with songs old and new, accompanying himself on his keyboard.

Our September entertainment will be Chrissy and Jenny, the competition a holiday souvenir.

TAILS FROM PRIMROSE FARM

We have had a very busy summer with the extended range for BBQs, the famous sausages, exploding burgers and marinated meats all having gone down a storm with the customers.

We are now beginning to plan the autumn recipes, and moving more towards our roasting and winter joints.

The farmers markets are going from strength to strength with the Alresford Market on the first Saturday of the month having a waiting list of stall holders wanting to have a place. Rowhedge in the Big St Lawrence Church is always well advertised and has a different promotional title each month, ie Summer market, Mad March Market. Wivenhoe Farmers market on the third Saturday of the month is managed by En-form to promote local produce and producers and is hosted in The Wivenhoe Congregational Church hall. All markets have some fantastic produce and the stall holders have expert knowledge on their production.

The pigs have enjoyed being outside in the warmth, they roll in the mud to keep cool and then sunbathe to dry the mud off.

The Leicester long wool sheep, all three of them, called Queenie, Quiche and Quorn are all characters eating out of the bucket daily when hand fed. They are beginning to grow their coats after being shorn in May.

The barn owl is still hunting at night although we have not seen any owlets at all and wonder if they have flown and we have missed it or they have not hatched yet.

Large numbers of pheasants and partridges are running in amongst the wild bird cover especially planted for them, their camouflage is amazing.

THANK YOU

Thank you

Fred Nicholls and family would like to thank everybody for the kind messages of support following the death of Cis. Thanks to all those that came to Weeley Crematorium on the 6th August and afterwards at The Court House. She would so have enjoyed seeing everybody and sharing happy memories. Thank you.

Open Gardens Thank You

We would like to express our appreciation to all the people in Great Bromley who opened their gardens to visitors earlier in the summer. Even the heavy rain and subsequent drop in temperature did not "dampen" our enthusiasm for seeing as many gardens as possible. What a wonderful variety we saw. It was good to meet the owners, share ideas and admire their creativity.

Thank you for all the obvious hard work that went into organising and preparing for this event. An afternoon of true serendipity.

Heather and Dave Boulding, Judy and Andy Owens

Summer Serenade Singers

The evening was well attended; many remarked how lovely it was to have such talented young singers perform in the church, even the bats were moved by the performance .

Many thanks to Linda Pinhey , Jenny Nicholls, Yvonne Cobbold, Henry Fairley, Estelle Kemp and Primrose Pork for their help . After a donation to the church £1200 was raised for the British Heart Foundation .

ABRAM CRAWFORD STEWART 1924-2015

Crawford Stewart was born on 27th October 1924 in Edinburgh and was always proud of his Scottish roots. His parents farmed at Pyot Hall, near Broxburn. When he was two years old, the family moved down to Essex having bought Morehams Hall at Frating, and Crawford lived there for the rest of his life. He had two older sisters, Mary and Joan, and a younger sister Anne. Crawford went to Elmstead Primary School and then to the Boys High School in Colchester, leaving aged 15 to work on the farm.

As a young man he yearned for adventure, planning at one point to emigrate to the Argentine. He was unable to enlist during World War II – he would dearly have loved to have been a pilot – because he was the single son of a farmer. Instead he joined the Home Guard and patrolled the beaches at Frinton and Clacton.

Crawford married Elizabeth Clachan in 1957 and they took over the farm from his parents. Crawford saw a huge change in farming during his lifetime, and was very much part of that change as the farm went from horse-drawn ploughs and other implements to four-wheel drive tractors and the farm workforce shrank steadily.

Over the years he and Elizabeth had five daughters. Crawford's skill at making things was put to good use for his children's amusement. They especially remember the land-yacht that they tried to race across the concrete and the rafts they rowed on the pond. He was very proud of his expanding family, enjoying seeing all of his ten grandchildren grow up and in recent years the arrival of two great grandchildren.

In the 1980s, when microlight aircraft came in, he had a last chance to try his hand at flying. He enjoyed the lessons, until unfortunately he crashed the plane and that was the end of his flying career. He retired from farming at the end of the 1990s when he was 74.

Crawford was strong-minded with a quick wit and a ready sense of humour. He will be much missed.

VISITORS TO OUR VILLAGE

All Saints Harwich Monday Club enjoyed a guided tour of St George's Church in August.

MESSY CHURCH

Bible Seasides at Messy Church

On Friday morning, 24th July, we all met at Ardleigh Village Hall to take part in our Bible Seasides Session.

Around 22 children arrived and listened to the story of Jonah and the whale told by Jenny. The children then went off to do some crafts around the hall. Hand made ball catchers were very popular as well as the origami fish. Picnic bags were decorated before the children made themselves a sandwich to eat later. Catch the ball and flap the fish kept the children busy before sitting down to enjoy a song about Jonah.

It was at this point that we said a sad goodbye to Diane and Lily who have been helping at Messy church since it began.

We then all went outside and played 'shark attack' and some parachute games.

Once back in the hall, the children lined up to fill their picnic bags before sitting with their families and friends on picnic blankets to enjoy the food.

It was a lovely morning and we would like to thank all those who came and all those who helped.

Look out for details about our next messy Church session on Monday 26th October at Great Bromley Village Hall.

FRIENDS OF LITTLE BROMLEY CHURCH

A big thank you to everyone who came along on Sunday 9th August to Little Bromley Church for Bromfest - our 3rd Folk Day!

We had a beautiful afternoon full of music from inspired local performers, dancing in the churchyard, lovely lunches and a vast array of delicious cakes. Our musicians came from all over the local area bringing folk songs, sea shanties, original music, and plenty of energy and enthusiasm!

Thanks to all who helped with flowers, cakes, quiches, sound systems, grass cutting, tea pouring and coming along to listen and take part! We hope to meet again next year for another happy day.

CHURCH JOTTINGS

THE KNEELERS 1973-77

Whilst looking through a book, left in my safe keeping by my mother, I came across this article about the Kneelers in our church. One hundred were made in the 1970s, the project led by the then Rector's wife Lucy Ransom.

There are 48 names listed in the book of the people who helped, some are still living within our community today.

“ The kneeler project was started in January 1973 when a day long school of tapestry embroidery was held at the Rectory and people of varying denominations and beliefs came, saw, and were conquered. Funds were raised at coffee evenings and whist drives, fetes and flower festivals, and the small bedroom at the Rectory was filled with rolls of canvas, cartons of pads and bags of wool.

Sufficient of the first two for the target of one hundred were bought at the start, but the wool had doubled in price by the spring of 1977.

A modest start was made with five designs based on the Cross, and four colours, green, gold, purple and blue on basic red, and five stitches but people soon became more adventurous, making their own designs, experimenting with different stiches and textures, more colour crept in. There are picture kneelers of St George, the Ark, the Three Wise men, the Burning Bush, of the Church itself, symbolic ones of the Lamb, the Chalice and Paten, and geometrical designs based on Christian symbols.

The hours of work cannot be counted nor a price for them estimated, but the meetings on Monday afternoons and Thursday evenings were happy times of shared experience when new stitches were tried. Fresh designs were suggested, criticised, altered, adopted and many topics besides tapestry discussed (not to mention the gallons of tea consumed).

Below are listed the people who helped (I have not included those in this piece - JN) There are others who worked behind the scenes as it were in such ways as fund raising. At all times Lucy Ransom was an inspiring leader and teacher, offering the hospitality of the Rectory at all times and seasons. Barbara Watts forgot her pain in her work, but was sadly taken from us. Elizabeth Watts, a resident at Seven Rivers made two kneelers despite great handicaps, and so did John Harwood, our only male embroiderer from Hamilton Lodge “

The book entitled “Great Bromley Church Records”— was kept originally by a lady called Miss Thomas – the P.C.C. secretary at the time .

If you have never seen the Kneelers please pop into the church and take a look , they are an important part of the history of our parish , the church and the people who have lived in our village .

The first 50 Kneelers were finished and completed to be on show for a visit by Princess Margaret on September 11th 1974. The Balance Sheet is also there and shows that the total cost of the Kneelers was £333.98p.
